The purpose is to encourage readership of the DOIN's. 22 people responded to the first logo search.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Dave Shafer (Bid Chairman) reported on the 2015 National Convention bid. The preparation of the bid is progressing well. The National Executive Committee (NEC) advisors were here in January. We visited with all of the downtown hotel managers and toured all of the hotels. There are more than 2,000 rooms and over 40 restaurants within 3 blocks of the convention center. We also took a tour of the city and met with representatives from the Kansas City Convention and Visitors Association (KCCVA). We did a second walk-thru of the convention center. There is ample room for the convention, all within easy walking distance. We have blocked rooms in five motels in the Independence, MO area for those seeking cheaper rates than offered by the downtown hotels. We are looking at two sites for RV camping. Both would have electricity but no water/sewage hookups. As it stands, we should receive use of the convention center at no cost. Costs associated with conducting the convention is covered by registration fees, hotel/motel usage and RV space rental fees. In other words, reimbursement for all of the costs is built into all of the fees, rentals, meals and other things we sponsor.

We will meet again with our NEC advisors and Convention Bureau personnel to complete the bid package. It will be signed by our federation officers (both our federation and Heartland of America), the bid chairman, and the KCCVA. If the bid is approved by the NEC, the bid package becomes a binding contract that entitles us to host a national convention. It allows us to use the registered name "National Square Dance Convention". It also recognizes that the NEC is not financially liable for any costs or losses associated with the convention. Both federations are legally bound to honor this contract. It also provides complementary rooms for the NEC members, the General Chairman and the seven committee chairmen.

A question was asked about why the last state convention was so profitable compared to other past festivals. Phyllis Brockhaus stated that the printing cost and hall costs were very low.
